Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 46 to 50.

For many years, people believed that the cleverest animals after man were chimpanzees. Now, however, there is proof that dolphins may be even cleverer than these big apes.

Although dolphins live in the sea, they are not fish. They are mammals. They are in many ways, therefore, like human beings.

Dolphins have a simple language. They are able to talk to one another. It may be possible for man to learn how to talk to dolphins, but this will not be easy because dolphins cannot hear the kind of sounds man can make. If man wants to talk to dolphins, therefore, he will have to make a third language which both he and the dolphins can understand.

Dolphins are also friendly towards man. They often follow ships. There are many stories of dolphins guiding ships through difficult and dangerous waters.

Question 46: Which animals do people think may be the cleverest?

- A. Big apes                      B. Mammals                      C. Dolphins                      D. Chimpanzees

Question 47: What other beings are dolphins like in many ways?

- A. Reptiles                      B. Animals                      C. Man                      D. Fish

Question 48: What is TRUE about dolphins?

- A. They can teach man their language.                      B. They can speak to one another.
C. They understand simple languages.                      D. Man can now talk to them.

Question 49: Why is a third language necessary if man wants to talk to dolphins?

- A. Dolphins cannot hear man speaking.                      B. Man wants to talk to dolphins in secret.
C. Dolphins' language is hard to learn.                      D. Most men do not speak English.

Question 50: In what way are dolphins friendly to man?

- A. They seem to like stories.                      B. They often follow ships.
C. They often jump on ships.                      D. They like interesting men.

Like schools in Britain and other English speaking countries, those in the US have also always stressed "character" or "social" skills through extracurricular activities, including organized sports. Because most schools start at around 8 o'clock every morning and classes often do not finish until 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon, such activities mean that many students do not return home until the early evening. There is usually a very broad range of extracurricular activities available. Most schools, for instance, publish their own student newspapers, and some have their own radio stations. Almost all have student orchestras, bands, and choirs.

Many different sports are also available and most schools share their facilities - swimming pools, tennis courts, tracks, and stadiums - with the public. Often the students themselves organize and support school activities and raise money through car washes, baby-sitting, or by mowing lawns. Parents and local business often also help a group that, for example, has a chance to go to a state music competition, to compete in some sports championship, or take a camping trip. Such activities not only give pupils a chance to be together outside of normal classes, they also help develop a feeling of "school spirit" among the students and in the community.

A combination of water, salt, air pollution, sun, sand, and wind is destroying the huge statue just outside Cairo. This five-thousand-year-old statue, which has the body of a lion and the face of a human being, is too badly damaged to be completely saved. First, there is not a good drainage system around the statue and too much water has been running into the stone statue for several years. As a result, tiny pieces of salt have been left on the stone and have damaged it. Second, air pollution from the increasing amount of traffic in Cairo is also destroying the ancient statue. The air is so full of poisonous gases that it is damaging the statue even faster. Third, the statue is being destroyed by extremes of temperature. The air is very cold at night, but during the day the stone of the statue becomes very hot under the strong sunlight. Other natural forces such as severe sandstorms attack the statue as well. Finally, the tourists who visit the statue every day also cause a lot of damage to it.

Câu 46: Which of the following is NOT true about the statue?

- A. Part of it looks like a person.                      B. It is in the centre of Cairo.
C. It is very big.    D. It is badly damaged.

Câu 47: According to the passage, the statue was built _____.

- A. 500 years ago      B. in the 10th century      C. in the 5th century      D. 5,000 years ago

Câu 48: All of the following are mentioned as causes of damage to the statue EXCEPT _____.

- A. temperature      B. fires      C. air pollution      D. tourists

Câu 49: The word “ancient” in the passage mostly means _____.

- A. very old      B. very big      C. modern      D. beautiful

Câu 50: It can be inferred from the text that _____.

- A. tiny pieces of salt have been put on the statue to prevent damage
B. there is little damage to the statue
C. the statue was built for entertainment many years ago
D. human beings as well as nature cause much damage to the statue
